

Feet First!

John 13: 5-15

The most difficult sin to let go of is my personal independence.

To be dependent upon Jesus is to be dependent upon one another through our dusty journeys!

Being independent of one another, we eliminate ourselves from our share in what Jesus is doing.

Living a life of vulnerability to the body of Christ is risky, but necessarily risky.

Sin is not wrong doing. Sin is wrong being, deliberate and emphatic independence from God and God's people. - Oswald Chambers
